FINAL CONFLICT

ISSN 1463-614x

FC is produced every three months to offer people a change from the bland nonsense put out by the New World Order.

We publish serious and humorous material - so if you can't think for yourself, or take a joke: go and read the quasi-Tory 'Reaction Monthly'.

FC is an independent magazine, though editorially it supports the Third Position. Material printed doesn't necessarily reflect the view of FC or the TP. We're just a magazine trying to inform Nationalist bods.

© FC, Spring 98 is a 'ZogBuster' production.

FINAL CONFLICT

Since 'Englander' newsletter (see advert, page 14) brought out an issue attacking those who are siding with the Fox and Stag Hunts, it's sparked debate in the Nationalist movement. So let's add our opinion.

Hunting for sport is wrong. Hunting for food/survival is acceptable - providing it's not done as big business. The prats who go out in their jolly jodphurs chasing foxes all over the place are the same upper class twits who make a killing on the stock exchange during the week and then go off to the country for the weekend. The same spineless morons who send their kids to Eton to be the leaders of multi-racial Britain or merchant bankers.

So let's have a little less crap from certain Nationalists. The cause has always been against blood sports. Just because a few see votes in 'switching sides' doesn't make it any different. Time will see them with egg on their face.

THE ESTABLISHMENT

Part of the problem within the Nationalist movement is the role played by certain elements who tend to be pro-establishment. There is little doubt that if these people got their way, whilst we would be better off on the matter of racial separatism, we would still have a Westminster State run by quasi-Masonic stooges, the old boys' school tie brigade, big business (no-doubt run by "honourary Aryans"), Royal parasites and the landed gentry, with most people living as on housing estates and working in factories. In short we'd have little better than White Capitalism.

This is what separates Racial Tories from Third Positionists. We will change society from top to bottom. We will root out corruption, degeneracy and put our people first. Equal opportunity for all our folk - unearned privilege for none.

EURO LEADERS TRY TO HIDE THE REALITY

At the recent Euro summit in Cardiff Tony Blair mapped out a plan to take more powers from Brussels and to give them to national parliaments and regional assemblies. This is an interesting event. Could it be the politicians are eventually realising that they are ostracising huge chunks of the population from the political process? The likelihood is, as with most "New Labour" sound bytes, that this will all amount to nothing, or just more levels of bureaucracy whilst the power rests firmly with the detested Eurocrats - especially as banking is about to be centralised (despite Blair's lies about being a "British patriot" at the last election); for how can power be decentralised when the power to create money and debt is being handed over to a central European bank?

No matter what idiots and traitors, like the Euro-fanatic Paddy 'Pantsdown' Ashdown or the sell-outs of Plaid Cymru and the SNP, might say - we are headed down the path to oblivion. European government means further destruction of our Nations' right to self-determination.

Only when each European Nation, from Scotland to the Ukraine, has real self-determination with the power to issue its own money free from the control of bankers, will we all know real freedom. Then we will be able to have a real alliance of European Nations, meeting as free and equal partners, mindful of each others rights, traditions and heritage. Not a clique of bankers and Freemasons.

FROM THE NEWS DESK

TOWER RECORDS' POLITICAL AGENDA

A NATIONALIST went into Tower Records posh store in Piccadilly, London, and bought a copy of Class War #74. This is the issue following CW's relaunch by a few sad sorts. CW had been wound up by its previous organisers (see FC #14/15).

Anyway, it was a bit rich for the store selling so many 'Princess Diana Tribute CDs' by St. Elton John to stock this particular issue as its back page pronounced 'DEAD AS A DODI - TWO LESS PARASITES'. Nothing that'd shock FC readers - but the middle class wimps who bought so many Di CDs would have probably burnt down Tower Records had they realised what lurked on the back page of CW.

So, to have a giggle and test the water, one of the FC Munch Bunch sent a letter into Tower Records and asked what the criteria was for stocking mags. The reply came: "regularity and demand".

As CW is as regular as a constipated Cambodian and as in demand as a pork pie in a synagogue, we sent in a copy of FC and asked for it to be stocked. And we waited for a reply... and waited... and waited...

So there we have it. Rich, posh knob stores willing to stock the 'revolutionary' (ha ha) warblings of the middle class dreadlocked brigade, but unwilling to shell out a few of Ranting Ron's truths into their customers' midst.

The Real News

NUCLEAR FOLLY

After the government back-tracked by announcing the phased closure of Dounreay, the nuclear dumping ground of the world in Northern Scotland, it's now time to reassess whether nuclear power stations are wanted or needed in these islands.

Most of them only exist because of huge government subsidies (whilst the coal industry was left to die on its feet and foreign coal imported).

Meanwhile the government has overlooked natural power resources (wind, solar and tidal) - which we have in abundance. If a minute part of the money wasted on nuclear power was put into giving people solar panels, setting up 'wind farms' or investing in tidal fed power generators, we would be on our way to be self-sufficient in clean, renewable power, for many years to come.

But what a silly idea...

THE REAL HOOLIGANS

When England played Tunisia in France, the "North African Youths" who started first riots in Paris were also at hand. The stabbings that occurred were all of English fans. During the match, when England scored, English families picnicking on the beach were assaulted by Tunisian thugs. In the face of this 'Arab' aggression, the English fans hit back to defend themselves. Needless to say, "our" media and politicians blamed the English fans for everything (no mention of Race of course).

English fans burn the Tunisian flag.

YANKS A LOT!

British children are watching so many American TV programmes that many believe the emergency phone no. is 911 - not 999, according to the voluntary watchdog 'Voice of the Listener and Viewer'.

But that's just the thin edge of the wedge, when combined with the amount of multi-racial rubbish produced - home grown and imported - it's a wonder any of our children have an identity at all!

66 YEAR-OLD PUTS US TO SHAME

Candour (May 98) continues the tale of the OAP waging a one man Crusade against faggot "literature" in shops. Ted Atkinson puts the younger generation to shame with his exploits. What are you doing to stop the rot?

ESTABLISHMENT TRIES TO STOP CARL KLANG CD

YOU MIGHT BE forgiven, on listening to the 'popular' charts, that "anything goes" as far as the music industry is concerned. Homosexuals, socialists, anarchists - all are welcome in 'NME' newspaper and on 'Top of the Pops' and Radio One.

Only recently, after being caught in the act in a gents' public toilet, the vile faggot George Michael seemed to have his music on the air a lot more.

One only has to think of so many Black 'rap' bands who glorify rape, sexual and physical abuse, murder, gang warfare, anti-White racism and who sprinkle their "songs" with obscene language, to see how 'extreme' things are in the entertainment business.

Compare all this to the folksy music of Carl Klang, with its comical digs at Big Brother, Zionist power etc. and you'd think folks wouldn't be too bothered... But then you'd be overlooking those who have a vested interest in brainwashing our youth and who want to keep any sort of pro-family, pro-White musicians out of circulation.

The people at Boadicea Music found this out to their cost when attempting to release Carl's collection, "Extremist!"

The first set-back came when the disk containing the artwork for the CD's booklet went to the bureau to be put onto film. The bureau - which in the past had handled 'heavier' stuff (skinhead White Power etc.) refused to put it onto film...

Eventually a contact was obtained through

Comrades in another country and the films were obtained.

The CD then went off to be pressed. Monies were exchanged, films passed on etc. A release date was arranged and announced. Then, just after the last FC came out announcing the release, the CD factory sent a letter (not even a courtesy phone call) to say they now refused to press it...

No, there was no foul language. No nudity. No incitement to hatred. It appears that music of a Christian Nationalist nature was just that bit too much for them. Or were they acting under orders?

Worst of all, this happened after they had the opportunity to turn it down a lot earlier in the proceedings. It looked as if maximum inconvenience was the order of the day in an effort to keep the release date back as late as possible, as people around the world were waiting on multiple copies.

The CD eventually came out, thanks in no small part to the perseverance of the Boadicea Music people. One thing is clear: the music establishment saw this CD as a real threat to their cosy and degenerate empire and tried every trick in the book to delay and stop this CD.

"EXTREMIST!" is available from Boadicea Music for £11 (CD) or £6.50 (tape), plus postage (10% UK, 15% Europe, 20% elsewhere). Cheques to 'Boadicea Music'. Send orders to: The Secretary, Boadicea Music, BCM 6358, London, WC1N 3XX.

THE FC 2000 FUND

AFTER THE SUPERB response last issue, the amount coming in nosedived this issue. Perhaps everyone thought someone else would do the job for them. Sadly things don't happen that way... and we still need to raise a good amount if we're to meet our target (a very modest £1,000). We know many of you give a lot of money to various funds - but please do dig deep: one last big push could see us reach the target, so give what you can!

Send all donations into: The Secretary, BCM 6358, London, WC1N 3XX, England. Cheques/Postal Orders should be made payable to 'FC 2000 Fund'.

ALL AROUND THE WORLD . . .

RUSSIA'S YOUTH FIGHTBACK!

A GROWING NUMBER of Russian youth are turning to the Nationalist cause as corruption amongst politicians worsens and the number of non-European immigrants grows.

One Nationalist fanzine (there are only two in Moscow), STREETFIGHTER, recently reprinted some material from FC and ran a number of articles translated into Russian.

Russian Nationalists complain that they are facing more and more pressure from the police, whom they regard as nothing more than Zionist stooges.

The number of 'White Power' concerts being organised in Russia is growing, with bands like 'Division', 'Vandal', 'Ultra', 'Rade-gast' and 'Kolovrat' playing.

Liberals are up in arms about the growth of Nationalism. On May the 14th the Associated Press put out an article which stated that there are around 4000 skinheads in Moscow alone.

"There have been a substantial number of episodes that have caused us some concern," said Foreign Ministry spokesman Valery Nesterushkin, who has received complaints of racially motivated attacks from the Kenyan, South African, Indian and South Korean embassies, among others, in Moscow.

American troops that engage in mixed-Race relationships with Russian girls have been a specific target for disgusted Russian youths.

As usual, the enemy media portrays the young Russians as "poor and uneducated" (do they really mean unbrainwashed working class youths?)

Meanwhile, the liberals aren't having an easy time of it: "I tried to distribute fliers to a group of veterans who were celebrating the victory over fascism," said 18-year-old Igor Kominetsky, a member of the Anti-fascist Youth Movement in Moscow. "But they all refused, calling me a Zionist." It seems that even Red Veterans know who makes up the backbone of liberal anti-fascist organisations!

CZECH TP EDITOR FACES JAIL

The 43 year-old editor of magazine Novy Narod (New Nation) from the Czech Republic is being persecuted by police for propagation of fascism, nazism, racism, etc... He could go to jail for three years.

What's caused this persecution? The editor published an article about the book 'The Bell Curve' by sociologists Charles Murray and Richard J. Herrnstein. He also published an article about the Holocaust in a Revisionist style.

Novy Narod is one of many magazines printed by Hnutí Narodního Sjednocení (Movement of National Unification) which is distributed in newspaper shops in Brno town.

HNS is a Third Positionist Nationalist group from the Czech Republic. Two years ago, journalists from the cosmopolitan newspaper Lidové Noviny started a campaign against the HNS for their "fascist" articles in their own internal magazines.

The open attacks continued on Czech TV too. Where is the freedom of speech and information from the Czech Constitution?

HERO OF 'NORTHERN WAR OF AGGRESSION' REMEMBERED

AS WE GO TO print, a twice life-size equestrian memorial to Nathan Bedford Forrest is being unveiled just south of Nashville, Tennessee. The statue is the work of renowned Nashville artist, Jack Kershaw, who is also a founder and Board of Directors member of the League of the South.

The horseback statue is the centrepiece of a flag park, featuring 13 Confederate flags and 13 Battle Flags of the Confederacy, located one mile north of the Brentwood exit on I-65.

American readers or Nationalists visiting America should make a point of visiting this fine memorial. For further details, write to: M.N.K. Foundation, PO Box 41012, Nashville, TN 37204.

AMERICAN PRISONER GOES ON HUNGER STRIKE

A WHITE NATIONALIST prisoner in America has gone on hunger strike after being victimised by the prison establishment. The trouble began when Mexican and African inmates fought each other. The White prisoner was targeted and all his Nationalist materials confiscated, then returned to him in front of all the mixed Race prison officers (a clear attempt to cause him problems). All his benefits for good behaviour were taken off him and he was framed for numerous offences he clearly hadn't done. After failing to get him beaten up, the authorities moved him into another wing full of violent Blacks. He has since been put in solitary confinement and had all his legal work, correspondence and religious materials confiscated. The prisoner needs to attend clinic for Persian Gulf Sickness, which the authorities will not allow until he renounces his racial and religious beliefs.

Remember: this is "democratic" America, not Soviet Russia! If you wish to help this young man, write to: FC Prisoner Welfare, PO Box 6465, Birmingham, B23 7JZ, W. Midlands, England.

"MN" Distribution, Skr. Poczt. 292, 20-950 Lublin 1, Poland. These NR dudes have a catalogue of music, badges, publications etc.

Assalto Sonoro, CP 14224, 20140 Milan, Italy. A.S. do a newsletter in English which gives a run down of news on Nationalist music from right across the globe. They also sell a wide range of Nationalist CDs.

Attack, MBE 174, 82 Rue J. D'Arc, 7600 Rouen, France. This is a free newsletter in French, German or English with reviews and news from the international skinhead scene.

Karl E. Hand, PO Box 1281, Lockport, NY 14095, USA. Karl sells hand made leather goods, inc. belts, bags, wallets, holsters (yee haa!) and Bible covers. Support Nationalist craftsmen! (why does one wallet have 'Ron' on it?)

Viking Photo Service, PO Box 36, 3500 Hasselt 1, Belgium. VPS have photos of bands etc. Drop them a line for details.

Front Against System, Ap. Corr. 596, 46080 Valencia, Spain. FAS have a fanzine and organise bands, militants etc.

IRISH PRO-LIFERS UNDER ATTACK!

MILITANT ANTI-ABORTIONISTS in Ireland were the victims of police brutality at a recent picket outside the Adelaide Hospital, Dublin. After being attacked by the police, some activists were hospitalised. Despite this eight were arrested - three for assaulting the police, five others for various public order offences. (See The Voice of St. George #11 for full details).

This isn't the first time the Gardai have been given orders to violently attack those using non-violent methods. FC immediately put out an alert on the internet and asked supporters around the world to send protests into Irish embassies.

Militant pro-lifers have already held a picket outside the Irish embassy in London. Readers should send letters of protest to: Irish Ambassador, 17 Grosvenor Place, London, SW1.

SPAIN FIGHTS BACK

TP Militants in Spain have been picketing abortion 'clinics'. At least one death centre has been targeted each week since January. Our Comrades hold placards with colour photos of aborted babies and the slogan "Aquí Se Asesinan Niños... ¡No Más Abortos!" (Children Are Killed Here... No More Abortions!).

They have also put up hundreds of posters which condemn Liberalism and Democracy as the cause of abortion (see front cover of FC).

Special Offer: Buy TP Reader (£3) and the TP Handbook (£2) from FC and get a free copy of Martyrs (£1). Add usual postage rates.

HELP TO BUILD FINAL CONFLICT

FC has a vital role to play in the Nationalist movement. We represent the revolutionary forefront of the Nationalist cause and FC is here to educate, stimulate and cause a few smiles along the way. How many times do we receive letters saying "FC's the best!" or "You must all be really handsome 'cos FC is so brilliant"? If only everyone backed up their praise with some realistic help for FC...

Well, in an effort to shift a few consciences and get you lot organised, we've listed below the most practical ways that you can help this magazine grow and reach more readers and convert more people to Revolutionary Nationalism.

1. SUBSCRIBE! This is probably the easiest step to take - and a lot of you out there have done it already. But for those that haven't - what's up with you? Can you honestly risk missing the best magazine since sliced bread, even for just one issue? Subscribe today and provide the base that FC needs to grow! What's more you'll get a subscriber's bulletin with all sorts of news, freebies and special offers. See page 2 for subscription rates. Subscribe now and get a FREE 'Final Conflict Munch Bunch' badge.

2. DISTRIBUTE! You may think only big organisations take bulks of FCs, but you'd be wrong. Individuals - just like you - dotted around the British Isles take copies of FC to sell to friends, contacts, at meetings, concerts, street sales etc. You can start with as few as 5 copies and build up sales from there. We have had some people start with 5 or 10 copies and end up selling anything from 25 to 100 copies each issue. It's easily done - it just takes a little initiative.

3. SUPPORTERS We started the 'FC Supporters' a little while back and have built up a body of Nationalists who want to help FC grow by giving a set donation each month by direct debit. This starts at just £2 per month - but can be as much as you want. This is an excellent way for FC readers who aren't too active or who can't take copies to distribute to help FC financially. Bringing out a top quality magazine like FC is no mean feat and takes all the money we can scrape together - so your help is very much needed. Drop us a line, or phone: 0161 345 6932, and we'll send you a direct debit form.

4. FC 2000 FUND This is an ideal way for those who don't like direct debits, or who don't always have money floating around, to give a one-off donation towards FC's work. We are trying to raise £1,000 to help us buy computer equipment that will let us continue the excellent work we've been doing with the FC magazine, web-site and daily e-mail newsletter. We still need serious donations if we're to meet our target - so please give what you can today!

5. ADVERTISE! FC has plenty of material that can be given to fellow Nationalists or put where sympathisers may see them. You could take some FC catalogues to give to friends or correspondents, you could buy some FC stickers to 'distribute', if you edit a journal you could even give FC a plug. All this helps word get out about FC.

6. MERCHANDISE The merchandise we sell provides a much needed boost for FC funds. You can help us - and get some goodies into the bargain - by buying some books, badges, CDs, posters, or whatever, now. Don't put off getting something - help FC by buying something today. If you don't have a catalogue write to us, or phone 0161 345 6932 and leave your address and we'll put one in the post.

7. FC BOOKS FC launched its own series of historic books with Volume 1 of the Black Book series - Fascism in England 1928 - 1940. This has sold in amazing quantities at meetings, concerts etc. Can you help by buying a copy - or buying a few to sell on? If so we'd love to hear from you. We're also planning the second and third volumes - as well as the first volume in our Red Book series (enemies of Nationalism). Ensure you buy copies (singular or bulk) when they come out. If you would be interested in placing an advert in the back of one or more of these titles, we'd like to hear from you now.

8. "EXTREMIST" "Extremist" - released by Boadicea Music - is the first CD/Tape that FC has been associated with. With good distribution we hope that FC's publishing side of things will be able to bring out more titles, and hence further the cause of National Revolution in Britain, Europe and throughout the world, in the next few years. Your support is paramount - whether it's buying a copy, buying bulk copies or advertising it.

1. Yes - I want to subscribe to FC. I enclose payment of £_____ (5 issues: £7.50 UK; £10 Europe; £15 Elsewhere)
2. I would like to help FC by taking _____ copies of this issue/next issue (please delete). I enclose £_____ (minimum order 5 issues: £1.10 each including postage. Please notify us if you intend taking a set amount of copies each issue).
3. Please send me a form so that I can become an FC Supporter. I intend to donate £_____ a month.
4. I enclose £_____ as a donation to the FC 2000 Fund. (Cheques for this should be separately made out to 'FC 2000 Fund').
5. I am interested in helping the spread the word about FC. Please send me _____ bundles of stickers for which I enclose £_____ (£2.50 per bundle). I also enclose a donation of £_____ for some catalogues etc. (please specify approx. amounts needed).
6. Please send me a merchandise catalogue ☐ (please tick). (We can also send you, on request, Legion Tapes and Freedom Videos lists)
7. Please send me _____ copies of Fascism in England 1928 - 1940 for which I enclose £1.75 inc. p&p per copy. (write for bulk rates).
8. Please send me _____ copies of the "Extremist" CD (£11 each + p&p) and _____ copies of the "Extremist" Tape (£6.50 each + p&p). (write for bulk rates)

Send all mail to: The Secretary, BCM Box 6358, London, WC1N 3XX, England. All cheques should be made payable to 'Final Conflict'. We advise recorded delivery for all orders. Overseas customers may send $, DM, French F, Lire or Ptas, in notes only by registered delivery.

HILAIRE BELLOC 1870 - 1953

"When I am dead, I hope it may be said:

'His sins were scarlet, but his books were read.'" H.B.

IF THERE IS one great injustice today it is that England has no literary heroes. Our children go to school and are taught all sorts of gobbledigook. Those novels from the 'greats' they do read tend to be confined to Shakespeare and a few others. These are books that may be interesting, but will inspire no great emotions, especially no patriotism or outrage at injustice.

Not too long ago, there were a couple of gentlemen whose titles could be found nestling amongst the books in many high schools.

A BRIEF LOOK

In this short article, we'll take a brief look at one of these great literary giants - Hilaire Belloc (the other being G.K. Chesterton, whom we will come back to at a later date).

Belloc was a law unto himself, not cowed by fashions or contemporary constraints.

His writing was prolific - both in the number of books and articles he produced. For example, in 1912 alone he produced nine books. These included perhaps two of his very best - 'The Four Men' and 'The Servile State'.

DISTRIBUTIST CLASSIC

The former follows four men around Sussex. The four are all Belloc at various stages of his life and the tale is of their adventures as they traverse Sussex, from pub to pub. The latter is a Distributist classic

"Mr. Hilaire Belloc is a case of legislation AD HOC. He seems to think nobody minds his books being all of different kinds" which totally exposes Socialism and Capitalism as the frauds that they are.

E. Clerihew Bentley.

QUALITY

Indeed, the quality of Belloc's writing, when one considers he wrote over 150 books, is amazing.

But much more than a writer, Belloc was an adventurer, a political commentator, a fierce friend and someone who spoke and wrote of the things in life so many people

"When you have lost your inns drown your empty selves, for you will have lost the last of England." H.B.

overlook - from the 'small' matters such as the warmth and comradeship of sharing a drink in some quiet English pub, to the 'large' matters such as the great injustice of the whole political system and the Capitalist/Socialist rip off.

THE GREAT ENGLISH PINT

In a similar vein he was the ultimate Englishman - the stout defender of the home, hearth, family and the great English pint of beer. But he was equally continental - born in France, Roman Catholic, wine drinker and great traveller. Belloc saw no contradiction in his defence of all things English and his religion. To him, the country pub and the altar were both to be defended from those who would destroy them or make them into museum pieces.

One of his best known books is 'The

"From quiet homes and first beginning,
Out to the undiscovered ends,
There's nothing worth the wear of winning,
But laughter and the love of friends." H.B.

HIS VICTORY IS STILL BEING READ

"Hilaire Belloc can feel a deep assurance that his place in English letters is secure. Over half a century has now passed since he first broke upon the England of the Diamond Jubilee and the Victorian summit, and began to challenge, in Oxford and in Fleet Street, along a very wide front, so much that was then taken for granted; and there were many who while they could not deny his gifts were so anxious to deny his conclusions and his causes that they sought to fit him into a much smaller space than was his by right. But since then a second and a third generation has grown up; and when a man finds he is read and re-read and quoted by the sons and grandsons of his own contemporaries, he is entitled to conclude that his work is living and is destined to live."

The Times Literary Supplement, 1950.

BELLOC ON MUSSOLINI

"I made a sort of pilgrimage to see Mussolini... I had the honour of a long conversation with him alone, discovering and receiving his judgments. What a contrast with the sly and shifty talk of your parliamentarian! What a sense of decision, of sincerity, of serving the nation, and of serving it towards a known end with a definite will!" - Hilaire Belloc

Path to Rome (1902) - an account of an actual journey - though interspersed with Belloc's philosophy of life, complete with vivid descriptions of the countryside along with accompanying sketches.

'THAT' BOOK

It is a rarity to find a Belloc book in a school now. He is considered 'persona non grata' by the powers-that-be for his writings on Capitalism and Socialism as well as 'that' book ('my admirable Yid book'), 'The Jews' (1922) which too many people condemn without actually reading.

Belloc's books are a very good way to introduce people to Distributism, defence of all things English and family values. People can be introduced to Belloc's worldview via "non-political" titles.

CHILD TO POET

Perhaps a child's book (like 'Bad Child's Book of Beasts') for a young family member; a historic book (like 'Oliver Cromwell') for a student, a travel book (like 'the Cruise of the Nona') for the lady of the house, a book on religion (like 'The Church and Socialism') for anyone with that interest, a book of fiction (like 'Mercy'

'The faith is Europe and Europe is the Faith.' From this conviction sprang... his detestation of the materialism of the capitalists and Bolsheviks, and his yearning for a political system in which the dignity of the poor was recognised; in which they were neither as children in a socialist nursery, nor as cogs in a capitalist machine; but as souls made in God's image and likeness, who in a sane world would lead free and independent lives with property of their own.

- A.N. Wilson in the biography 'Hilaire Belloc'

At the end of Piccadilly is a place

Of habitation for the Jewish race.

Awaiting their regained Jerusalem.

These little huts, they say, suffice for them.

Here Rothschild lives, chief of the tribe abhorr'd

Who tried to put to death Our Blessed Lord.

But, on the third day, as the Gospel shows,

Cheating their machinations, He arose:

In Whose commemoration, now and then,

We persecute these curly-headed men. HB- oral tradition.

of Allah') for the 'normal' book reader of the family, or a book of poems (like 'Hilaire Belloc: An Anthology Of His Prose and Verse') for the family poet.

The beauty of Belloc's works is that he always blends his views into the writing. For example, in the 'Mercy of Allah' he manages to attack materialism, taxation, lawyers and politicians.

POLITICS

Then, once hooked - as most will be - the odd political work like 'Economics For Helen' can be slipped in.

So if you haven't started out on the 'Belloc Road' - do so. You won't be disappointed and you'll get to know one of our best compatriots. His writings, and biographies, will introduce you to a world as wide as history and as close as friendship. Indeed, it is impossible to get to know Belloc and not like him as a friend - even for his enemies.

And once you are Belloc's friend, you will want your family and friends to travel the same road. It's a journey well worth taking.

AVALON!

1. When, where and why did Avalon form?

A: Avalon formed nearly four years ago one very drunken night which none of us took too seriously. We were moaning and putting the world to rights (as you do!) when someone came up with the brilliant idea of a band. It wasn't until a few weeks later that someone remembered about it. We sort of stumbled along for three years after that.

2. You seem to be constantly gigging. Do you like it 'on the road' - what's been your best gig to date?

A: Gigs are great. We go along even if we aren't playing. We take it as a privilege to be part of Blood & Honour and support ALL the bands. We don't just go along for the music, we go along to be with our people. The establishment try to force people of different races to willingly mix with each other socially. B#####! We stick with our own!! The best by far was when we played in Germany to over 1000 Comrades.

3. Did you have any problems from the authorities when you played in Germany?

A: Not really. A few funny looks and stares when we arrived, but it's what you expect. We also had a moment of hassle after the gig when armed police pulled us over and gave our driver a hard time (cheers Steffi), but other than that it was OK.

4. 'Our Honour Is True' is your first CD. Why the delay in getting a deal?... and were you pleased with the finished product and have you had much feedback from it?

A: Blimey, three questions in one! We had the deal a year before Our Honour Is True was released but ran into numerous problems. Firstly the German label (DI-AL Records) got raided by ZOG which made them a little nervous over some of our lyrical content. Fair play to them though, they never interfered with the lyrics or asked us to change them! We think that the actual recording has come out really good, although in hindsight perhaps a little more could have been done with the package. The only good feedback we've had is Blood & Honour rating it as the CD of the year so far!

5. You've got another CD planned - This Is War! - any news on that yet?

A: Yup! It's out, ready and selling like hot cakes (Ed-Yeah, I found a raisin in mine!). It's a different style to the first and 'kicks ass' as some say. It's a lot nearer the knuckle than the first - but without stepping over the line of hatred. Plenty left at the minute!

6. Is it easy to be an openly Nationalist band when it comes to gigs, releasing CDs etc. - or is it an ongoing struggle?

A: Nothing in life is easy! (Ed - Except beating up SWP paper sellers). If it was easy it probably wouldn't be half the fun. We take it as a compliment that the police are now taking such an interest in us. We are already well known by them locally and have no problems off them. I bet it would actually surprise you if we told you that a couple of the local bobbies actually got hold of the first CD somehow and liked the sentiments of it. What most probably do not realise is that people around the world do work together. The actual recording of CDs is the only problem as most engineers usually die as soon as they realise what they have on their hands. We are lucky in that we do not need any engineers or producers as we are perfectly capable of doing it (and have done it) ourselves.

7. There seems to be a little more 'unity' on the Nationalist music scene these days. Do you think things can get better - or has unity gone as far as it will given past animosities?

A: It's going really well at the moment. I don't think there is a problem between any of the bands in Britain and most of us talk on a regular basis. Little things have happened over the past year to make us re-address certain things and while it will never be the same again, we think it can be improved on. Things are going on at this minute that will get the establishment worried again and perhaps bring the two sides even closer.

8. Being a relatively new band, what were your musical inspirations - and which bands (old and new) do you rate today?

A: Our only inspiration is Skrewdriver and Ian Stuart in particular.

AVALON - DRESDEN - JANUARY 1998

A FEW DODGY HERBERTS ON TOUR!

THIS IS WAR!

There is none that comes even close (although a lot think they do!) to what Ian was and did. New bands: perhaps Bound For Glory, but the best live band that we have ever seen is Noie Werte. They are absolutely awesome.

9. As you hail from Coventry maybe you could tell our readers a little about homely village life?

A: Coventry is your typical English industrial city that is now rampant with filth, immigrants, drugs and guns. Our city also carries the title of "stab city" because of the high number of stabbings. Our local council are a joke. Large lumps of cash and buildings are given to our ethnic minorities to help them feel less oppressed and even the ##### gays get treated better than royalty (Ed - Well, they are queens!). A short while ago the council and a brewery got together to give the faggots their first official public house. A near million pounds was spent on renovating an old building into a suitable place called 'RAINBOWS'. Mind you, it was burnt down three times during construction! The best recommendation I can give to anybody who wants to come to Coventry to visit is: DON'T! Go somewhere else.

10. If you were to find yourself, with a portable meat grinder, in a quiet train carriage with Richard Branson, Ben Elton, Tony Blair and Boy George - which would be the first to be mashed?

A: Boy George would definitely go through the mincer first. We have a particular dislike towards queers, especially ones that can't sing a note. We'd stick Branson in next after mugging him, followed very quickly by Mr. Elton (again after nicking his wallet for being such a Marxist hypocrite). I think it would be beneficial for the Nation to keep Tony Blair away from the mincer and just kick the #####er to death!

11. On 'Our Honour Is True' you sing about the Holohoax. How relevant is this to life in Coventry in 1998?

A: The song you refer to is 'Whose Education?' which was written after local education authorities tried to introduce new guidelines into the system regarding the Holohoax. It actually created quite a storm up here with a lot of teachers refusing to toe the line and then forcing the new guidelines to be scrapped. The local rag got involved and proved that there are a lot more doubters out there than the system would let you believe. Believing that it happened or not does not really come into it. Why should a mere detail that took place more than 50 years ago be given special credence over other areas of history? (Ed: Here here! When do we ever hear of the millions of Ukrainians or Chinese murdered by Marxism?)

12. What are Avalon's plans for the next few years?

A: Well we're pretty busy for the rest of this year. We already have a few gigs lined up abroad and have another album to record which will be titled "TOTAL RESISTANCE" which could be out by the end of the year if we can find the right label. We also have another Thunderbolt project to record with our mates of Razors Edge which will this time take on an Arthurian theme. Graham is recording his first solo album which will be mostly of the ballad nature and Shag, the band's bass player, is working on another project which is aimed at the mainstream style of music but with a Nationalist message. On top of all that there is a live CD planned within the next few months which features Stigger on guitar. From there we shall wait and see. We will carry on with the benefit concerts and hope to work with a variety of bands for the good of others. It is great playing concerts for Blood & Honour, and we don't think that we could ever leave that, but if we can help other organizations raise cash then we'll do it without expecting any payment.

13. Any closing comments?

A: Cheers to Final Conflict for the interview and we hope that you can continue with your excellent work in the future. To anyone else reading this, it's time to lay down the weapons of the past that have been pointed towards each other and turn them in a different direction. TOGETHER WE ARE STRONG.

DEUTSCHLAND ERWACHE!

The following interview was conducted with Udo Voigt, the Chairman of the NPD since 1996, he is a forward looking, determined man, leading one of Europe's largest NR movements.

1. Can you tell our readers something about the formation of the National Democratic Party, including the difficulties of operating in Germany so soon after World War II?

World War II ended with the military defeat of the Axis Powers, and the complete destruction of Germany. The high flown moral language of the then newly founded United Nations, a language which justified the war of annihilation against the German people, proved to be just so much hot air. The so-called "liberation" of Germany on May 8th 1945 cost the lives of another 3,000,000 Germans in the post-war period; Germany lost a third of her territory to Soviet, Czech and Polish Communists; and the victors staged a Court of Revenge in Nuremberg. It was the belief of this 'court' that crimes had only been committed by the Germans during the war. Thanks to this court, even today, it is impossible to raise the subject of Allied war crimes and the real war aims of the Democracies. Such an end to a war, which found no form in a Peace Treaty, carries within itself the makings of new injustice.

As a response to this unacceptable situation, and to the CDU, SPD and FDP parties licensed by the Allies, the NPD was founded in November 1964 as a real and alternative national party.

The NPD - like its precursor, the Deutsche Reichspartei - had to live with State repression. In complete contrast to the rules of other civilized countries in the world, Germany permitted, and still permits, members of "unacceptable parties" to be banned from professional life; even the propaganda war against the NPD is financed through public taxation. From the outset, the national television and newspaper networks worked furiously against the NPD - either through a media blackout or through pushing deliberate lies.

To this day, there has been no serious analysis of the NPD's political programme. The total exclusion of a nationalist party from the day-to-day political life of the Federal Republic - founded in May 1949 - is an indication of the unhealthy condition of this state. Germany badly needs solutions that will allow her to live normally, as many European states do at present.

2. The NPD is well known throughout Europe as a large, successful and yet still a 'radical' or 'national revolutionary' Movement. Why is this, given the pressures to become 'soft' on matters such as Immigration, Zionism, Homosexuality or Freemasonry?

Udo Voigt

The NPD is pledged as a movement to represent the German people in every aspect of their lives. In our day to day work, this means that we have to deal with aggressive fringe groups promoted by society on the one hand, and with State-sanctioned lawbreaking by many of society's institutions on the other. Thus, a 'soft' line is not even open to the NPD!

Nevertheless, we have to respect the rules of the Constitution and the laws of the present Republic, despite permanent and provocative pressure. Any other course, be it active or even merely written, would give the System a pretext for banning the party. When the day comes that government power will be held by the NPD, we shall solve this matter using the Constitution with great pleasure.

3. Your rallies in defence of the normal German soldier in the Wehrmacht made the newspaper headlines, even here in England. Can you tell us the background to this huge mobilization of the German people in defence of their fathers and grandfathers?

Vae victis - "Woe to the defeated" says the bitter experience of those defeated on the battlefield in the ancient Greek and Roman Empires. The victors of World War II have perfected this saying using modern propaganda techniques and deliberate disinformation. Using the Nuremberg Trials as a basis, the phenomenon of the Third Reich is reduced to one of purely criminal causes. In Germany today, there is a man, Herr Reemtsma, of the vile tobacco industry, who has reserved to himself the right to portray the glorious Wehrmacht in a kind of Hollywood cliché. One day, the history books of this Republic will have to be rewritten in this respect.

DEUTSCHLAND ERWACHE!

DEUTSCHLAND ERWACHE - NPD INTERVIEW

4. In the magazine of the 'English' Anti-Fascist Action (Fighting Talk), an organizer of the German 'anti-fascists' admitted that their membership was mostly middle class, whilst the "fascists" attract huge numbers of working class youth. Would you care to expand on this?

The anti-fascist subculture that can be seen today in Germany is made up of a number of tendencies: middle class elements that come from the Red Army Faction, the Young Socialists of the Social Democrats who adhere strictly to the pseudo-science of Marxism; and the majority of the have-nots from the violent squatter and anarchist scene. This subculture possesses an anti-capitalist view of the world, and views the NPD as an instrument of Capitalism. Such a view of the NPD is fundamentally wrong, and disregards the fact that the Movement will eliminate Capitalism which is so contemptuous of humanity. We will study the potential of the antifascists, and deal with it politically.

5. Aside from the rallies and street activities, what other forms of action does the NPD undertake?

The NPD presents itself publicly in a number of ways. Apart from contesting elections at all levels, the NPD puts great effort into winning over the youth that has lost sight of the need to fight for Germany. In recent months, these efforts have been crowned with growing success.

This success in the field of youth cannot be taken for granted because much of our youth, until now, have been raised to be politically apathetic or mere consumers.

In the cultural field, we offer bands from the nationalist world the possibility of going before the public, thereby aiding the process of national integration.

In addition, the NPD is active in the form of Citizens Initiatives and the mobilization of the masses, with the aim, at this stage, of creating an extra-parliamentary opposition which moulds public opinion and which exerts pressure on the ruling classes.

Finally, the NPD is active in the German Employee Union, which is of a nationalist orientation.

6. Some of our readers have read about the Nationalist singer/songwriter, Frank Rennieke, and some of our people have seen him perform live. Has he managed to bring in a new kind of person to the NPD, or is he representative of young NPD activists? Perhaps you could give us a brief background to his style?

The Young National Democrat, Frank Rennieke, stands in the old tradition of the 'Liedermacher' (literally 'songmaker') and the balladeers. A Liedermacher is an artist with instrument and vocal training who pillories the Establishment about particular political and cultural grievances, and this in an intellectual manner.

As a stylistic means, irony and ridicule are used, occasionally with biting effect. The traditional instrument of the Liedermacher is the guitar. Thus, Rennieke's music does without technical effects or electronic noise, the simplicity of the music allowing listeners to concentrate upon the lyrics.

Frank has shown considerable fighting spirit when faced with attacks from the Left and repression from the State. Thanks to his example, there are now numerous national Liedermachers to be found throughout Germany.

The media constantly attack the NPD, in a manner Nationalists elsewhere will identify with.

7. Outside Germany, many groups use pictures of the NPD - especially the large rallies - and say "our German Comrades". Some of these lunatic fringe and reactionary mainstream groups like to feed off the good name of the NPD. What would you say to them, and to the genuine National Revolutionaries of the Third Position?

National Socialism, which incarnated itself in a Fuhrer-State, is a product of the history of the Twenties and Thirties. This historical uniqueness, born as a response to the Versailles Treaty after World War I, cannot be repeated. Every imitation of the NSDAP by small groups both inside and outside Germany are, therefore, doomed to fail because they are an enormous misinterpretation of the political realities of the Nineties.

"...the Movement will eliminate Capitalism which is so contemptuous of humanity."

The NPD is a Movement of the People which will implement its programme of building a Third Power beyond Capitalism and Communism, thereby giving self-determination to the people.

At the centre of our struggle is mankind and Nature. Thanks to our life-giving view of the world, we stand against foreign rule and domination, against foreign penetration, exploitation and oppression. We stand for German freedom, for the freedom of peoples, for a New Social Order in both Germany and Europe.

8. Much is made of the problems the German Establishment has in the former East Germany by the 'English' media. Can you explain the real situation to us?

During the period of Communist rule, the German Democratic Republic was fully integrated into the internationalist ideology of Frank Rennieke, folk singer and NPD activist.

Soviet origin. Economically, the country was plundered by the Soviet power through the dismantling of existing industries and endless repressive measures. Compared to the capabilities of the German economy during the peaceful years of the Thirties, it was given a subordinate role as a satellite of the USSR. Nevertheless, in of the German economy during the peaceful years of the Thirties, it was given a subordinate role as a satellite of the USSR. Nevertheless, in the final phase of the GDR, the basic economic requirements were met, there was an adequate medical system, and there was employment for all. Thus did the GDR become the leading economic power in the Communist economic bloc, COMECON. Of course, the yearning and desires of the Germans living in the GDR for national unity, freedom and prosperity were not fulfilled.

The unification of East and West Germany in 1989 produced an initial euphoria, but this was destroyed by blunt and harsh realities. The 'globalization of the economy', record unemployment at 25%, the exploitation of the people by speculators, the arrival of asylum seekers, criminals and profiteers from all corners of the world, as well as deep insecurity about their future, has led the young in particular to realize that the phoney parties of Bonn and the economic liberalism pushed by the Kohl government have pulled East through mutual visits, and exchanges of thoughts and ideas about current ideological developments. The NPD looks forward greatly to this task.

JN Militants at a rally.

10. German comrades are often present at Nationalist rallies around Europe, such as Diksmuide in Flanders, Madrid on November 20th in Spain and in Romania at Legionary celebrations. Given this and your co-operation with the ITP and other National Revolutionary groups, would you say that international co-operation is important to you as a Movement?

International co-operation is very highly regarded by the NPD. The rule of multinational capital, following the American declaration of a New World Order, cannot be eliminated on the national level alone. The peoples of Europe must together pursue an analysis of the political and economic situation, and in joint committees work out a transnational strategy for gaining political power taking into account individual national and historical interests. The aim is a Europe made up of National States, without the conflicts of past centuries, and which will be a counter pole to other centres of power on other continents.

11. Given that Nationalists believe in "No More Brothers' Wars", and that increasingly nationalities who could be considered as being historically hostile are forming allegiances to fight the New World Order (i.e., English and Irish militants co-operating as never before), what is your position with the Polish National Revolutionary movement, the NOP?

Germany has a valid claim under international law to the return of certain Eastern Territories taken from her by Poland after World War II. A wrong does not become a right through the mere passage of time! However, the NPD believes that an armed solution to this problem, as was customary internationally in the past, is out of the question. Poland and Germany will, through embracing new economic solutions, find a peaceful way to secure justice and lasting peace. Our claims do not prevent the NPD from exchanging views with the Polish National Revolutionaries!

An NPD literature stall. The education of militants in a NR movement is vital.

Germany has in her history, many things in common with the ethnically-related peoples of the East. We would like to keep up good, old traditions, and we wish these peoples well in their endeavours to overcome the rudimentary structures of the Soviet period, and in their efforts to resist American imperialism.

12. How do you see the future of the NPD and the future of Germany?

The NPD sees itself as a popular people's party that respects the principles of a constitutional state. This means in Germany the power to govern will lead from the streets to the Parliament. The

The NPD is a Movement of the People which will implement its programme of building a Third Power beyond Capitalism and Communism, thereby giving self-determination to the people.

Germany into a vortex of decline.

The stirring of Nationalism, as a counter movement coming from the grassroots, has put fear into the ruling political class. This class senses its own uselessness and fears that a development will take place which will sweep it aside as quickly as was Erich Honecker's in 1989. Thus, the oligarchy in Bonn is seeking to restore control by criminalizing defiant national youth, by using politically motivated laws, and restricting free speech by, for example, a complete ban on public rallies. Such tranquillity, however, is merely the lull before the storm.

9. You have been working with the International Third Position for some time now. How do you view this co-operation?

The youth wing of the NPD, the Young National Democrats (JN), issued a discussion paper some years ago in which a Third Way beyond Capitalism and Communism was promoted. The NPD mother party had already pledged itself in 1977 to National Liberation, and with that clearly renounced chauvinistic tendencies. The analysis of the enemy position, therefore, converges with the ideas of the International Third Position.

We must, therefore, enrich the political culture of our organizations

A Romanian Comrade speaks at a JN European Youth Conference at which a representative from the Third Position also spoke.

DEUTSCHLAND ERWACHE - NPD INTERVIEW

"fight on the streets" has begun. The NPD is now able to mobilize tens of thousands of people. We must now begin the "fight for minds"! During this phase, we must use capable intellectuals from all levels in society so as to build our ideology of a New Order beyond Capitalism and Communism. In the third phase, we must aim to "fight for the Parliament" and take power.

We are greatly concerned about the future of Germany and of Europe. The global threat to our nations by multi-national banks and companies working in harness with the ruling class is having a destructive effect on our peoples.

The German example reveals clearly:

The German people, developed over the course of 2,000 years, is being replaced through the endless immigration of non-European immigrants. The conflicts caused by this already have disturbed social peace. The chief of the Verfassungsschutz, the German internal security service, has admitted in an interview that there already exists "a parallel Islamic society".

The outstanding achievements of the German social system are being more and more replaced by minimal standards.

The intended elimination of millions of jobs and the creation of intolerable and permanent unemployment is driving large populations all around Europe into poverty and debt.

The dumbing of the education system is now destroying the hitherto good reputation for science and research.

The impact of serious crime, being organized internationally by gangs of criminals, is massive and striking at defenceless populations.

The NPD aims to replace those in power, so as to give the German People a secure future within the European Family of Nations!

LITERATURE

ATTEMPTED MURDER - The State/Reactionary Plot Against the NF. Published by the NF in 1986, this booklet tells the tale of the '85/'86 "split" which created 'The Flag NF' and 'Political Soldier NF'. On re-reading the booklet for the first time in well over 10 years, it struck me how obvious State involvement in "the split" was, even looking at the whole affair 'from a distance'.

That's not to say all 'Flag' people were paid up informers - but the leading lights definitely seemed keen on wrecking things. The lesson of the whole messy affair - I suppose that's what happens when you get "reactionary" types and "revolutionary" types all together. Tories and Radicals never mix well.

The gem of the booklet? How about this:

"Shortly before the abolition of the Ulster Assembly, Billy Bleakes, the unusually radical Official Unionist Assemblyman for South Antrim, told the Assembly that he had evidence that the National Front had been infiltrated by MI5 and that a senior official of the party working for the State had visited Ulster some time before, staying in a hotel or guest-house in South Belfast. The only NF official who had at the time stayed in such accommodation was [Ian] Anderson." (A.M. page 56).

Or what about journalist David Rose, who in a response to the Press Council (reprinted A.M. pages 11 & 12), admitted that in 1985 he had two full day meetings with someone from "the highest level" of the NF and Gerry Gable of Searchlight magazine. Information published by Gable in The Guardian was only known by a tiny handful of people in the NF. The authors conclude that the informant must have been Ian Anderson.

Many people who were in 'The Flag NF' after '86 will today tell you that Anderson is a scumbag. Maybe he's State. Maybe he's just a thief.

Who knows... but the evidence in this booklet points most definitely to the former. He is now head of the proto-Tory 'National Democrats'.

The booklet is probably quite hard to get a hold of, but Legion Tapes do sell it as a double cassette set for £5 (see their ad at the bottom of the next page). It's worth getting, even though it's full of 'NF this' and 'NF that' which is a bit dated, just for background info. and for an insight on how the State can operate - even against 'legal political parties' if it sees them as a real danger.

YOUR INHERITANCE: THE BEST KEPT SECRET IN THE WORLD. Part 1: Your Hidden Heritage. This book is an Identity Christian attempt to show that Europeans are the direct descendents of the Tribes of Israel and how today's Jews are descendents of some other lot (it's a long story - so for the ins and outs, contact the people who sell this book). The main way this book 'proves' this is, as well as quotes, is via symbols in Nations' crests and mutated names of places. I must admit I found some of the evidence a little tenuous. Available from: Plumline Publications, PO Box 131, Carlisle, Cumberland, CA1 2JH (£7.50 inc. p&p).

SOVIET EVIDENCE AT KATYN - Document USSR-54 at Nuremburg. This booklet will be of interest to a great many people. This is the evidence the Soviets gave, at Nuremburg, to prove the "German fascist invaders" murdered circa. 15,000 Polish PoWs at Katyn. In 1989, the Soviet government admitted that it was the Red Army that murdered the Poles, not the Germans.

As such, this 'report' is pure lies, half truths and fabrication. This was accepted on the 14th February 1946 at Nuremburg by the illustrious allies as evidence of war crimes. How many other reports were equally as dubious remains to be seen...

FORGED WAR CRIMES MALIGN THE GERMAN NATION by Udo Walendy. This handy little 80 page booklet blows the lid off some terrible photographic forgeries. Paintings, montages - they're all here! It makes you wonder, what sort of twisted minds could put "photos" like this together. Interestingly, many of them saw the light long after WW2 - when, if they were originals, they would have been published straight away as excellent war propaganda. You'll also read about Soviet atrocities in the Ukraine blamed on the Germans thanks to a forged photo (echoes of Katyn!). A bit harrowing for some maybe- but worth fighting through to give you an idea of what our enemies are capable of.

Soviet Evidence... costs £3.60 and Forged War Crimes... costs £6.66 inc. postage, from: The Heretical Press, PO Box 1004, Hull, Yorkshire, HU3 2YT.

LIBERALISM IS A SIN by Fr. Felix Sarda Y Salvany. "The monster of our times," "the evil of all evils," "a deadly heresy," "a living lion going about seeking whom he may devour."

What is? Who? I hear you say. No, not Ranting Ron on a day trip to Hyde Park Corner. No! These words, and many more appear in a book published over 100 years ago (older than the editor of FC and his cat put together) by a Spanish priest. It certainly got the liberals

ALLIED PUBLICATIONS

THE FOLLOWING publications form part of the growing Third Position, Nationalist 'fight back'. They cover a wide range of styles and are far from 'uniform' in outlook and coverage, so please support as many of them as possible:

THE ANVIL, BCM ITP, London, WC1N 3XX. This comes out three times a year in support of the National Students' Guild. Subscribe: £3 p.a. Cheques to 'TPFF'.

CANDOUR, Forest House, Liss Forest, Hants., GU33 7DD. Published monthly (and weekly for a while) since the 1950's, Candour is an institution amongst Nationalists. A year's subscription costs £15, £20 overseas. Cheques to the 'A.K. Chesterton Trust'. Candour also sells back issues, books etc.

ENGLANDER, BM 1326, London, WC1N 3XX. Published monthly, Englander features news from around the country and Nationalist views on current affairs. For a 6 issue subscription, send £4.50 made payable to 'WLCA'.

GAZETA DE VEST, BCM ITP, London, WC1N 3XX. The quarterly booklet-size English language journal of the Romanian Legionary movement. A year's subscription costs £8. (£10 overseas) Cheques payable to 'TPFF'.

NATIONAL FREEDOM, BM Crackle, London, WC1N 3XX. This is a quarterly full-colour journal which tends to go more for in depth features and reviews, but also has a world news section. A sub is £6. Cheques payable to 'National Freedom'.

THE VOICE OF ST. GEORGE, BCM ITP, London, WC1N 3XX. Published bi-monthly, this is the street paper of the Third Position and features news, TP activities etc. A 12 issue subscription costs £8.50 (£10 overseas) for which you get two copies of each issue. Cheques to 'TPFF'.

hopping mad then, to the extent that the author was condemned by his own, (liberal), Bishop. Although essentially a Catholic book, (as one would expect) it's analysis of Liberalism is so spot on that every true Nationalist can learn from it.

It's short, easy to read chapters cover: what liberalism is; how people become liberals; how not to and how best to bash them.

Basically, to sum it up [get on with it - Ed] in my own words, its message is: no compromise, no concessions, stand firm and defend the truth, even if greatly outnumbered. Arm yourself with the right weapons and stick the boot in. Better to notch your axe in battle with pink triangle orcs and their like than be no better than them by doing nothing.

For the average Nationalist, it's well worth reading. You will have a better knowledge of the enemy. For others who might think it's out of date, and that you couldn't find a priest talking like that today, the following quote comes from one:

"Do not believe in Wall Street. Do not believe in Washington D.C., nor in the Houses of Parliament in London. Do not believe in the dollar. Do not believe in pension funds. Do not believe in democracy, nor in the Constitution, nor in the British Monarchy. Do not believe in any of the works of modern man. He is a poor and accursed creature, by his own choice. He has built on sand, and his sand-castles are on the brink of collapsing."

If you don't feel inspired to read this book; get it anyway. We all know whinging liberals who are Catholic. Lend them a copy. If it doesn't shut them up it will get them screaming.

MUSIC

AVALON - This is War. ♦ Goodness gracious me m'lord! Another Avalon CD, hot on the heels of 'Our Time Has Come' (see last issue). This CD is very good indeed. It opens with the title track which is a favourite at concerts - and rightly so. I like Avalon's style which easily switches from the fast, bouncy 'This is War' to the slow, heavy If I Could see the Future, or Communism (I'll be Happy When its Dead). It's good old fashioned, toe-tapping singalong RAC music. Well done lads. ☺☺☺☺½

CELTIC WARRIOR - Allegiance to the Flag. ♦ Hot off the presses - the new CD from our old friends. This is a CD of ballads - and even includes Skrewdriver's old classic I Don't Need Your Love, with a harmonica! The old Violent Storm song The Right to be Proud gets the same treatment. Groovy times are here! ☺☺☺☺

MASSIMO MORSELLO - La Direzione Del Vento. ♦ Another recording from the master of NR tunes (I won't say 'the old man of TP music'...). Excellent music - following on from Punto di non Ritorno. This is Nationalist music of the very highest calibre - also worth getting for the dodgy photo of toddler Massimo by a pedal car! Excellent graphics in the digipack too! ☺☺☺☺½

BOUND FOR GLORY - Glory Awaits. Most of you will know BFG's style by now - it verges on HM at times, but can revert to a more 'traditional' sound. This CD starts off, after the 'intro', with a typically heavy track Fighting Man. Things slow down a bit for Unknown Soldier which is a brilliant song about the dead sacrificed in foreign wars for our alien governments. The other blinder is another ballad Russian Winter. it's quite a tear jerker ("Mothers and fathers and children cried, knowing that their heroes all died, in the Russian winter"). This is BFG at their best! Shame about some of the heavier stuff - but then some of you will like that too. Available from: BFG, PO Box 6773, E. St. Paul, MN 55106, USA. ☺☺☺☺

CARL KLANG - "Extremist!" ♦ After what seemed like an age thanks to various setbacks (see page 3), this CD eventually hit the streets and has been widely acclaimed already. As regular FC readers will know, Carl's music is the bees knees. This CD opens with Blinded by the Lies - a song of the woe of the Nationalist militant when faced by the apathy, ignorance and brainwashed drowsiness of his compatriots. And there is no respite - for this CD (or tape) lunges from one classic to the next. Gordon Kahl and Randy Weaver are honoured; the United Nations, bankers and politicians are sneered at; Vietnam PoWs and the children at Waco are remembered; warnings are given out to our enemies with songs like Hang 'Em High, We Ain't Gonna Fight for the New World Order and I'm the Resistor. In fact, it's nigh on impossible to pick a best song on this 17 track blockbuster as each one is a gem in its own right. The CD finishes on a high note with Rock Them in Their Ivory Towers, a powerful new song, followed closely by It's Not Over Until we Win, assuring those who might fall into despondency that we CAN and WILL win. This CD is destined to go into legend as one of the best CDs this decade! get your copy from FC now. ☺☺☺☺☺

SKULLHEAD - Victory or Valhalla. ♦ Talk about 'a blast from the past!' This brought back more memories than platform shoes and flairs, of days gone bye, when there was a youthful twinkle in my eye. This CD is a right corker, jam paki'd full of goodies: 15 right belters in all. It starts off with the title track which'll get all you Viking types grooving. There's little let up with this CD, with gems like Look Ahead, Blame the Bosses, Your Last Chance, White Slag and Green and Pleasant Land. If you don't enjoy this CD you want to scan your bloodline for traces of eskimo - if you get my meaning guvnor! A definite. ☺☺☺☺½

WHITE LIGHTNING - We Rule. ♦ Another offering from the team that brought you Broadsword's God of Thunder. Yes it's Aussie Nigel and Taffy Billy with 10 more White Power tunes to delight the most discerning ear. The opener, Australian Youth, is a right corker: "Make a stand for your Great Nation - against the scum who are going to die". Even Ranting Ron gave it the thumbs up! This CD has a more Aussie feel to it than the Broadsword one, with Australia getting more mentions and Nigel sharing the vocals with Billy on more songs. Some of the lyrics are a little clichéd for me ("going down the football...") - but then, maybe Australia today is like Britain of the early 80's. Anyway, you won't be disappointed with this CD. Another goodie! ☺☺☺☺

CONCERTS

Blood and Honour gig. Northants. 25th April 1998. Good sets from lots of bands. Hate Society played from Germany - other acts: Warhammer, Legion of St. George, Conquest, Avalon and Warlord. Hate Society had an excellent reception and it was good to see so many Germans over. But as usual Warlord stole the show and had the whole place bouncing along to gems like Tomorrow Belongs to Me and Beautiful England. Excellent!

Oi! Festival, Moscow. Ultra, Kolovrat, Radegast, TNF, Oreh and Bulldog (from the Ukraine) played to 400 skinheads. Most of the bands were 'RAC' with songs like Blood and Honour and The Snow Fell mixed in with home-grown Nationalist ditties. All in all a promising concert which brought many Nationalists together.

"PEACE" CRIMES

- WHAT REALLY HAPPENED WHEN THE CRIMINAL GOVERNMENT OF AMERICA STORMED THE PROPERTY OF THE BRANCH DAVIDIANS AT WACO, TEXAS, 1993.

A SPECIAL REVIEW OF WACO: THE RULES OF ENGAGEMENT. This is a stunning documentary that blows the lid off of years of media and U.S. government lies about what really happened in Waco, Texas, on April 19th, 1993.

For more than 5 years, the Feds have insisted that the Branch Davidians committed suicide and burned themselves. Now infra-red film, taken by the FBI, shows these claims to be utter codswallop.

It also shows how the FBI - probably acting on direct orders of the White House - deliberately and systematically massacred at least 76 men, women and children on that fateful day.

This film had a limited cinematic release in the USA. No doubt the scene of audiences crying at the horrifying scenes of U.S. government brutality does not make for good business.

The heart of Waco: The Rules of Engagement is extensive FBI aerial FLIR (Forward-Looking-Infra-Red) film, obtained by the surviving Davidians' solicitors for their trial. Other sources include audio tapes of government negotiations and videos made by the FBI, BATF and Branch Davidians.

Most crucial is the FLIR film, which records heat images, rather than visible light. It shows events behind the building, concealed from news cameras. Heat images also make visible government troops and tanks firing bullets and grenades.

Film of the initial BATF (Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms) attack non February 28th 1993, shows machine guns being fired from Texas National Guard helicopters into the wooden building filled with women and children. FBI negotiator Jim Cavanaugh is also heard admitting that agents fired from helicopters - a crucial fact repeatedly denied by government officials and a clear violation of laws against the indiscriminate use of deadly force.

Revelations about the devastating April 19th 1993 final assault - which was, according to the film, directly controlled from the White House - are even more horrific.

The film shows FBI tanks systematically crushing the wooden building, which then housed some 80 men, women and children, room-by-room. Simultaneously loudspeakers blare "This is not an assault". Moments later, an FBI tank can be seen dragging the crushed body of one of the Davidians between its treads.

As the Davidians' home is demolished, most surviving women and children (identified by infra-red photography as 'blobs') crowd into a single concrete room with just one door. FBI troops and armoured cars then advance. They repeatedly fire automatic weapons into the room through the walls and the single door, killing anyone who tries to escape.

Finally, FBI tanks fire grenades at three separate locations in the building. Fireballs immediately rush down the corridors and fire engulfs the building.

Most remaining survivors burn to death, while the FBI prevents any fire trucks from entering the property. A subsequent official enquiry finds military pyrotechnic (i.e. fire-starting) grenades near the site where two fires began.

Prior to the final assault, you also see the FBI tanks spraying CS powder dissolved in methyl chloride into the building. An FBI supervisor boasts on camera that they deliberately saturated the Davidian women and children's final refuge.

CS is a chemical warfare agent, whose effects include burning of the skin, nausea, inability to breathe, vomiting, and death (particularly among children).

In January 1993 - three months before the final siege of Waco - the U.S. government signed an international treaty banning the use of CS in war because it is too inhumane. As shown in the film, a few seconds' exposure to CS causes soldiers to become incapacitated and scream in pain. At Waco, infants, pregnant women and elderly men were sprayed with CS repeatedly for over six hours.

The FBI's justification for gassing children with CS was to "get their parents to surrender". But as one witness declared at the congressional hearings, "In America we protect children. We do not torture them for the alleged crimes of their parents."

Forensic experts also testified that when CS burns, it produces hydrogen cyanide gas - the same gas used to execute convicted murderers. Indeed, coroners confirm that corpses in the ruins had high levels of cyanide.

What comes next is not for weak stomachs. In hellish scenes, you see footage of the contorted, crushed, charred and bullet-ridden bodies of men, women and children - silent testimony to the ruthless brutality of the federal government.

All of these events and images are juxtaposed with film of repeated public denials and lies by the FBI, BATF and Attorney General Janet Reno. Official after official testifies at the House hearings that "not a single shot was fired by the FBI on April 19th," "the Davidians shot themselves," "the Davidians set themselves on fire," "we gave them every opportunity to leave peacefully," and "the government's first concern was to protect the children."

Footage in Waco: The Rules of Engagement - including the FBI, FLIR film - has been offered to major news stations across the United States. To date, every single station has refused to broadcast it. According to Waco's producers, CBS and 60 Minutes have had the film for more than two years but will not show it.

The House Waco Investigation also had all of this information, including the FLIR film. Yet at congressional hearings, both Republicans and Democrats swept the crucial evidence under the carpet...

THE LIES AND THE COVER-UP

THE U.S. GOVT. lied about Waco. Only the Oklahoma bombing took the pressure off them - and many people think they were behind that too. The US-led New World Order is based on treachery, deceit and death.

HURRAH FOR THE CARLISTS!

Dear Sir,

I first came across your periodical a couple of years ago, when someone gave me Final Conflict issue 5, which he had brought from Madrid. I thought of writing to you then... (Since I've mentioned issue 5, may I point out that the song "Don't Cry Mother, Don't Cry..." is not Falangist, but Carlist. The song is quite a bit older than the Falange itself). This letter is intended as a first contact, which I hope will continue,
L.I. Junta Carlista de Gijón, Spain.

IT'S NOT ALL SUNBATHING

Dear FC,

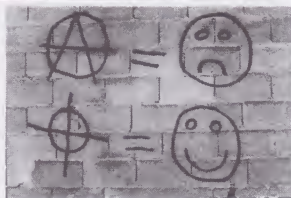

I thought you might like to know that Limassol in Cyprus is currently playing host to plenty of FC stickers,
Bristol Patriot.

HAPPY, SMILEY FACES

Dear Ed,

Here's something a few of us rustled up of late. A bit of humour in Nationalist graffiti will even raise a smile from people who don't really like us. For example, my mother and uncle both voted Labour in the past, but laughed when they saw the painting down our high street that was on the cover of Mirth No. 2 [available from FC for 50p - Ed]

Mick Jagger, S. Wales.

EXTREME PRAISE

Hey, this is Scott the drummer from Extreme Hatred here in the U.S. Just wanted to drop you a quick e-mail to thank you for sending us copies of Final Conflict over the last year or so. I always meant to write back to you guys to thank you and let you know how much we like your 'zine, but for one reason or another never got a letter out to you. So keep up the good work and we hope to hear from you.

Scott, Extreme Hatred, USA.

WINNING RECRUITS - EVEN IN JAIL

Dear FC,

Hi! I read with interest Final Conflict about a fortnight ago which I was shown by #####. I found that I was drawn to many of the articles and ideas in it and ##### suggested I write to you for more information on the Third Position (I recently read the TP Handbook). I am a native of Wales (Welsh is my first language) and it's quite a while since I was politically motivated. FC and the Third Position has certainly given me food for thought,

D. H., Newport, Isle of Wight.

A PAGAN MEMEBER SPEAKS OUT

Dear FC,

I've got no problem with the TP's Christianity even being a pagan with a small p. I found the members of the TP a great bunch of blokes with the courage of their convictions and no beating around the bush. Also, I've noticed others are trying to nick your ideas. First they slag you off, then they talk about community relations and veg runs etc. without giving you the credit.

D.R. North London.

Ed: This was part of an ongoing debate in our e-zine. We said non-Christian TP members don't have a problem as they know the TP takes a tough stance on morals, faggots, abortion etc. As for ripping off ideas - we're used to it (cadre structure, ruralism etc.)

RULE BRITANNIA

your article on the British Family of Nations was spot on. No-one can accuse me of being a 'Little Englander'. I am of Irish descent and living in Wales. My wife is of Scottish descent and lived in England most of her life. If anyone could be 'British' it would be our children who could play for any of the four rugby 'home' Nations - England, Wales, Scotland or Ireland.

Just because we want a family of Nations doesn't mean we are breaking the blood ties between the historic British Nations. I like to think we'd be strengthening them - unity in diversity and all that. The way some people talk you'd think we're on about civil war between the Nations. Talk about Tory propaganda to keep the status quo.

This upper class blanket Britishness that's been enforced on us since the 18th/19th Century has suffocated the real cultures of these beautiful islands. Remember the Union is younger than our individual Nations.

We should be against the EU and the UK. Only a British Family of Nations within a Europe of 100 Flags should suffice - away from Westminster, Brussels, NATO etc.

The other thing that makes me laugh about Westminster Patriots - they have even talked about "harnessing the power of the City to the Nation"! You may as well try and get Satan to be all teddy bears and cuddles.

We don't want reformed Capitalism. We don't want a reformed Westminster State. We don't want Racial Tories.

We want NATIONAL REVOLUTION!

JJ,

Porth, S. Wales.

WITH A HEY NONNY NONNY!

Comrades,

ever mindful of the need to raise the Cultural atmosphere in such esteemed organs as FC ('ere wot? -Ed) I thought I'd send you my favourite poem from Tolkein's epic masterpiece 'The Lord of the Rings'. Those who haven't read it, should!

G.H.,

Maidenhead, Berks.

Sing hey! for the bath at close of day that washes the weary mud away!

A loon is he that will not sing:

O! Water Hot is a noble thing!

*O! Sweet is the sound of falling rain, and the brook that leaps from hill to plain;
but better than rain or rippling streams is Water Hot that smokes and steams.*

*O! Water cold we may pour at need down a thirsty throat and be glad indeed;
but better is Beer, if drink we lack,
and Water Hot poured down the back.*

*O! Water is fair that leaps on high in a fountain white beneath the sky;
but never did fountain sound so sweet as splashing Hot Water with my feet!*

Ed Says: Come on you bunch of hardened political fanatics. Try singing that next time you're in the bath! Better still - send in your favourite poem - something short and to the point, by you or someone else. Nothing boring. As with all letters, send them to: The Secretary, BCM 6358, London, WC1N 3XX, England.

Competition!

I was lucky enough to have two bods recognise me in the street (from all the stickers up around my home borough in Streatham) and publicly recant their lefty ways and sign up as FC Supporters there and then. Not only did they say they'd give £20 a month - but they also handed over some rather embarrassing pro-Bosnian, anti-Fascist T-Shirts. So, being the generous bloke I am, I thought I'd give 'em away to the two dudes who send in the funniest photo, drawing, press cutting or joke. It can be on any matter, but all the better if your favourite Ron is weedled in it somehow... Send your efforts into me c/o the FC address. One T-Shirt is XL, one M. State a preference - but we can't promise. They're excellent for sneaking into Red meetings, shops etc.

BACK CHAT WITH RANTING RON

"HE'S NOT A ZIONIST" - OH YES HE IS!

SOME NATIONALISTS claim the leader of the French FN, Le Pen, is a good egg. Some because they long for the respectability and votes the FN gets. Some because they know good people in the FN, at grass roots level. Neither viewpoint is justified. Why? I will tell you.

Le Pen is "in with the in crowd". He plays footsie with arch-Zionists. And as the old saying goes - 'He who sups with the Devil better bring a long spoon'. This has been debated at length in the FC daily e-zine. I will touch on some of the basics in a moment.

I mentioned Le Pen's Jewish sponsored visit to Britain last issue. I was lucky enough to find a clipping from the South Wales Echo from 1987. 23rd Sept to be exact. Under the heading 'Now Le Pen may call off his visit', Sir Alfred Sherman, the Tory (yes - Tory) who had invited Le Pen to England to address a fringe meeting at the Tory 1987 Blackpool Conference, justifies his invitation. Sherman said "Le Pen is not coming to Britain for an ego trip. He wanted a meeting of minds". Stange that the FN chief thought Tories could share some of his ideas... or maybe not.

Sherman went on to reject the description of Le Pen as a "racist and fascist". To quote the Echo: "If he were anti-semitic I would not have invited him," said Sir Alfred, who is Jewish'.

A few good people within the FN does not make Le Pen acceptable to the NR cause. A movement could be sound - but if its leadership were Masonic, it would negate any positive things achieved. The amount of collaboration with Zionists by the FN suggests that its leadership is putting the interests of shadowy organisations before those of the French people, contrary to popular belief.

We've had enough of vested interests and backroom deals by big business and Masonry. If "nationalists" follow this line too - who will know the difference?

WHEN OUR HISTORY IS WRITTEN...

Imagine my joy, what with all the fuss over fox hunting (sorry, "traditional British country sports" to quote Col. Blink) to come across an old issue of the regional NF paper 'SUSSEX FRONT'. To be exact it's issue 22, May 1983. The editorial is headed: "HUNT HORROR. And they call it SPORT?" The editorial ends "The sooner this barbaric practice, that the priveleged classes call sport, is banned, the better." Further into the same issue is Ted Budden's Diary. Mr. Budden has since popped up again in the midst of pro-hunt nationalists.

Someone phoned the Ron Hotline the other day to tell me about an article all about "The History of British Nationalism" by some non-de-plume whose initials are "JT". In it, much is made of "cranky" radicals in the NF, as opposed to "traditional British nationalists" in the NF Support Group (circa 1986). For "traditional British nationalists" - read State sponsored movement splitters (as a few "cranks" now near to "JT" can confirm). Just as the NF was selling 10,000 plus of NF News every month in Northern Ireland alone, opening branches everywhere, getting kids involved and most importantly, setting itself up as a genuinely radical alternative to the system, the State stepped in caused a split through a few well placed drips and others who meant well, but for various reasons - personal, geographic etc. went with them (Legion Tapes has the full story on tape - see 'Attempted Murder', reviews pages).

One thing presumably not mentioned by "JT" is how 'latter day Comrades (and erstwhile "cranks")' went with poof Webster and against the fledgling BNP in the early 80s. Could they have despised the BNP that much as to side with an open homosexual?

I wouldn't normally mention historic things like this, but those who sit and judge the Nationalist cause over the years in glossy mags should remember the good and bad things...

The mysterious Mr S. Pike has struck again. Private Eye, Daily Mirror... Where will he appear next?

SHE'S NOTHING LIKE A VIRGIN..

I FOUND speculation on who might play whom in Attenborough's film of the Bible story (Mirror, May 11) offensive, especially the "casting" of Madonna as the Virgin Mary.

Your paper wouldn't dare offend Jews or Muslims. Please don't think Christians are a soft target.

DEGENERATE PERVERT WILL BE MISSED BY ALL

A special tribute by Bishop Crispin Cringer of Southwark:

What a terrible day when Justin Fashanu passed away. Oh what an innocent victim of such a terrible world... (© the Daily Newspapers) He stated long ago that people have nothing to fear from faggots, er, homosexuals... After all, it's not as if they go around corrupting the young or raping boys, is it? That's what the bigots and haters would have us believe, but it's simply not true.

Maybe Elton John could release a lovely tribute. George Michael could do a concert in a park (without nipping off to the toilet).

What's needed is more tolerance and understanding.

[To be followed by a rousing chorus of 'Kum Ba Ya' accompanied by the Soweto Tambourine Quartet.]

HUNTING RON?

One of my Barmy Army sent in this suggestion. Of course, I would like to make one thing crystal clear as some may think this artwork a little extreme - I would never call poofs "queers" - they have always been 'faggots' in my book! 'Nuff said.

Oh wonderful democracy!

German Nationalist Günter Deckert is currently languishing in a German jail.

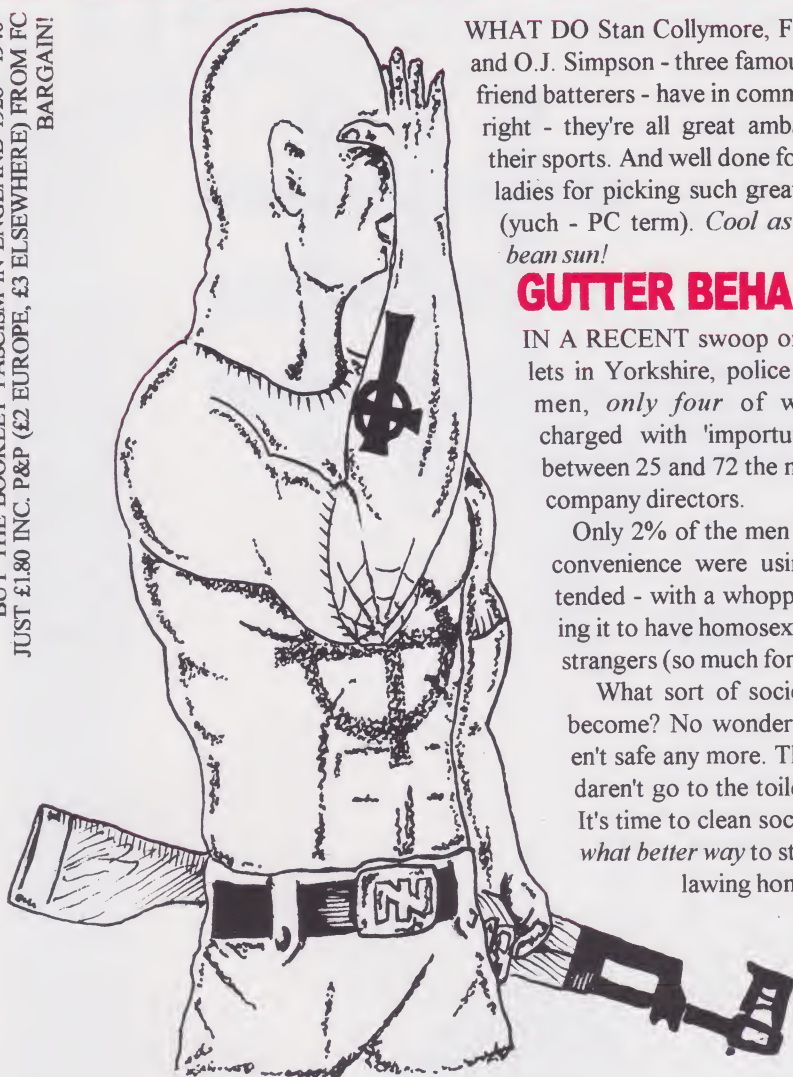

In their wisdom, the authorities have decreed that he may not receive correspondence in any language other than German "unless there is a 'compelling' reason"

A Ron acolyte wrote in and said "I have lodged a protest with the German Embassy in London and with the prison governor in Stuttgart". He finishes by saying "P.S. Last issue was excellent" - so he's obviously lost his marbles. But seriously, righteous dudes are asked to send letters of protest to the German embassy in London and:

Staatsministerium Bad. Württemberg,
z.H. E. Teufel,
R. Wagner-Str. 15,
Stuttgart, Germany.

WHAT DO Stan Collymore, Frank Bruno and O.J. Simpson - three famous wife/girl-friend batterers - have in common? That's right - they're all great ambassadors of their sports. And well done for the young ladies for picking such great "partners" (yuch - PC term). Cool as the Caribbean sun!

GUTTER BEHAVIOUR

IN A RECENT swoop on public toilets in Yorkshire, police arrested 16 men, only four of which were charged with 'importuning'. Aged between 25 and 72 the men included company directors.

Only 2% of the men entering the convenience were using it as intended - with a whopping 98% using it to have homosexual acts with strangers (so much for AIDS).

What sort of society have we become? No wonder children aren't safe any more. They certainly aren't go to the toilet any more! It's time to clean society up - and what better way to start than outlawing homosexuality?

MORE 'TOP TIPS'

1. Learn to pronounce words like 'aye' and 'chip-pie' with a Northern accent to show solidarity with the unemployed (Northern readers: show sophistication by saying 'Certainly my good man' with a posh knob BBC type voice).
2. When you pass a beggar on the street, give him good advice like: "Get yourself a job and work for a living". You'll reap the rewards when he's a rich businessman.
3. Get one over on Reds by saying 'Good day' as you pass them. Further up the road, turn round and shout: "Not really!"
4. Pick up old copies of 'The Times' and carry them about under your arm to show your intellectual prowess. You can enhance the effect by tutting at those carrying lesser 'tabloids'.
5. Wear your 'Fascist and Proud' T-Shirt when collecting prizes at the local literary club and announce where they can be bought.

WHERE DID THOSE BLOODY QUEERS GO!?

REVOLUTION AGAINST REACTION ARMY!

WE ARE THE Revolution
Against Reaction Army
(RARA). We are against Reactionary tendencies - especially amongst the bourgeois Third Position within the so-called 'Revolutionary Nationalist cause'. These people are working for Reaction against OUR Revolution (as outlined by our Revolutionary Command Council's succinct booklet 'Spotting Bourgeois infiltrators within the Revolution-ary anti-Reactionary National Revolutionary English Armed NR Elite': 5 photocopied pages - £2.50). Unless we root out the bourgeois elements they will stop our elite army taking back the streets around Sainsbury's on Sunday afternoon. Comrades! We are against Reaction and for Revolution unlike the bourgeois reactionaries who look like Revolutionaries but are bourgeois. RARA for the Revolution... blah blah... Catalyst... drone drone...

WE'VE HAD ENOUGH OF AGENT PROVOCATEURS

IF THE LAST few years have taught us anything - surely to God it's been that we should use our heads when people pop up with mags full of guns and 'wot not'. This piece on the left is a bit of fun - but the reality is all too serious. Some sad individual - who might call himself 'third positionist' or 'national revolutionary' - is now advocating armed struggle (terrorism).

This sort of s### will only bring repression down on our heads and see our people locked away. Whilst the inadequate who leads the 'NR Faction' may think it's great and 'sofistikated' to pose with artwork of AK47's (and hang around with French National Bolsheviks who are pro-queer) all he's doing is causing trouble for those of us engaged in the struggle in the real world.

Victory comes from hard work, sinking roots, building structures, winning recruits, educating militants... not from posing and trying to grab headlines. Our message to the sorry individual behind the "NRF" is to grow up, before he lands someone in jail - or worse.
